Dear Customers and Friends,

The worst of the pandemic seems to be behind us, but we are still seeing unprecedented delays from some of our vendors. We have received some Akubra hats from Australia, but are still far below our normal inventory levels. Leather moccasins are not yet coming through and our Northwest Indian jewelry is in short supply. We continue to be very grateful to some very patient customers. We are also doing all we can to limit price increases as our costs rise.

There is good news too. Two old friends are back: The Hat Stretcher (page 14) and our Celtic Belt Buckle (page 50), both customer favorites. Our supply of Panama Hats is great going into the summer season. We have new hats, new wallets and new jewelry as well as our ongoing styles. We and our staff look forward to your continued patronage as we bring you our eclectic mix of quality items. Thank you!

Will Morgan

Panama Hats  Panamas are the classic hot weather hat. Popularized by world leaders such as Napoleon III, Teddy Roosevelt and Kruschev they remain a standard today for men and women who need lightweight protection from the sun. The bodies for our Panama hats are hand woven in Ecuador from toquilla fiber, the finest of the straws used in hats. The bodies are tightly woven to ensure good protection from the sun. A substantial fiber is selected to produce a firm hat that holds its shape well. The pinch is reinforced to reduce breakage. These hats are great for hot sunny weather (but not suitable for use in the rain.)

Darwin Panama  The Darwin is our Panama hat with Australian style. The brim is turned down at the front and back and the hat sports a kangaroo leather hat band, hand braided at David Morgan. The body is woven in Ecuador from toquilla fiber, considered the best straw for Panama hats. Reinforcement in the pinch and the base of the crown helps to protect the hat at its weakest points. Teflon coats the fibers for water and oil resistance, yet maintains its breathability. The brim has a thin hidden plastic memory band at the edge to keep an even brim shape. The crown is 4 inches at the front and back, rising to 4½ inches at the sides. The brim is 3 inches. Cloth sweatband. Color is Natural. Handwoven in Ecuador, finished and trimmed in the USA.

Panama Hat Care  With reasonable care, Panama hats will last years. While extremely light fine weaves may be folded and rolled, the firmer weaves we offer should not be crushed. Pick the hat up by the brim, not by the crown or the peak as it will fray with repeated pinching. Panama hats are designed for protection from the sun. Do not wear them in the rain, and do not store them near the rear window of a car or truck, where they would bake in the sun. When you put your hat down temporarily place it on its crown, so as not to distort the brim. Store the hat on a hat rack or supported at the sweat band in a hat box. Use a soft brush to remove dust.

Please refer to pages 14 and 15 for our hat sizing and hat care information.
Mayser Hats  Mayser Hats was established over 200 years ago in Ulm, Germany. Leonhard Mayser’s success came early with his desire to produce quality men’s hats. Over the next two centuries, Mayser has expanded into other industrial areas, but their motto remains as “Innovation by Tradition.” Mayser uses traditional methods with modern techniques. This allows them to produce high quality hats yet remain on the front edge of fashion.

Featherweight Panama  This Featherweight Panama by Mayser Hats is the finest Panama hat we offer, finely woven and very lightweight. The crown is 4 inches at the front and back and 4¾ inches at the side in a Fedora shape. The snap brim is 2½ inches wide. A 1¼ inch black, grosgrain ribbon adds the classic touch. The leather sweatband ensures wearing comfort. The toquilla fiber is lightly bleached. The pinch is protected with silicone. UPF rating 50+. Color is Natural. Hand woven in Ecuador from toquilla fiber. Finished and trimmed in Slovakia.

Akubra Hemp Hats®  Akubra’s legendary quality is available in hemp straw hats. Industrial hemp is an outstanding fiber, useful in textiles, high strength cordage and papermaking. As a farm crop it is relatively pest-free, does not deplete the soil, and requires little fertilizer. Hemp is one of the world's strongest fibers. The fibers are naturally resistant to mold and ultraviolet light and are extremely resistant to abrasion. Hemp straw hats are stronger than toquilla fiber Panamas, are more durable, and will last longer.

Hemp Range  The partially vented crown of the Range is a pinched telescope and measures 4 inches at the front and 4½ inches at the sides. The brim is 3¼ inches wide. The 7-pleat cloth puggaree is 1½ inches wide. Unlined. Reeded roan leather sweatband. Color is Natural. Made in Australia.

Akubra Hats® have been Australia's quality hats since the early 1900’s, when Arthur P. Stewart set up to make a hat to meet the needs of this bustling new colony. Australians needed hard wearing hats with wider brims than the usual European brims, to protect them from the sun and rain. Akubra soon became known for the durability and comfort of their fur felt hats, and recognized throughout the world for the Australian styling with a flair that reflects the independent, confident, and sometimes adventurous spirit of the dinkum Australian. Akubra's reputation is built on the long lasting quality of their fur felt and the comfort of their reeded roan leather sweatbands. Choose one of Akubra’s premium quality Heritage Collection hats or one of their traditional styles — all Akubras are great hats.

Cattleman
The Cattleman is the hat made by Akubra for the Australian Stockman's Hall of Fame, chosen because it typifies the hats used by the cattlemen in Australia. The safeguard it provides from sun for nose, ears and back of the neck makes this enduring Australian style a good choice for anyone spending time outdoors. The pre-creased pinched telescope crown is 4 inches high, eyeletted. The 3¼ inch bound edge brim is turned down in front and back. Made from Akubra's Imperial Quality pure fur felt, the hat has a double ornamental band with brass fittings. Fully lined. Reeded roan leather sweatband. UPF rating 50+. Colors are Bran, Fawn, Graphite Gray (Charcoal) or Sand. Graphite Gray is unlined, all other colors are fully lined. Made in Australia.

Please refer to pages 14 and 15 for our hat sizing and hat care information.

Akubra’s Sweatbands  The leather sweatband is the only part of the hat that touches the head, and thus is critical to comfort. Akubra uses roan leathers, full thickness sheepskin, tanned to be soft and absorbent. The leather is reeded, that is, supported by a thin impermeable strip of material with a thin plastic fibre encased in the edge. Reeding improves the fit and comfort of the sweatband and inhibits transfer of perspiration from the leather to the hat itself.
Leisure Time  The Leisure Time is a hat for all occasions, with a style that looks just as fine with a suit as with a t-shirt and jeans. The moderately proportioned hat also looks great on women. The pre-creased crown has a wide center crease with side dents in the front. The crown is 4 inches high at the front, 4½ inches at the sides. The raw edge brim is 2¾ wide. The bonded leather hat band is ornamented with a thin band of feathers. Made from Akubra’s Imperial Quality pure fur felt, the hat is fully lined. Reeded roan leather sweatband. UPF rating 50+. Color is Light Sand. Made in Australia.

Banjo Paterson  The Banjo Paterson is a great style suitable for town or country wear. The pre-creased crown has a wide center crease with side dents in the front. The crown is 4 inches high at the front, 4½ inches at the sides. The brim is 2¾ inches wide, raw edge. The striking hat band, ½ inch wide, is made from the skin of the Barramundi, one of Australia’s fine food fishes found in the Condamine and other northern rivers of Australia. Premium quality pure fur felt, fully lined. No ventilation eyelets. Reeded roan leather sweatband. UPF rating 50+. Colors are Graphite Gray (Charcoal) or Heritage Fawn. Made in Australia.

Open Crown Hats

Back when hat stores were common, most hats were sold with open crowns. The crease, or bash, would be put in for the customer by the salesman at the time of purchase. These days, hat stores are hard to find and almost all hats sold have pre-creased crowns. For those of you who still want an individualized bash, we offer a number of open crown hats from Akubra. Shape the crown to suit you best, then, when the hat is damp from the rain, make any final adjustments and let the hat dry. We include instructions with each hat or check online at davidmorgan.com for more information and instructional videos.

The Adventurer, Aussie Slouch and Campdraft hats are sold with open crowns, as shown here.

Wearing and Caring for Your Akubra
Akubra Hats are made to be worn by active outdoors people. They are made to give full satisfaction during years of service through sun and rain. There is no need to baby your Akubra, but if you treat it with understanding, it will look better and last longer.

Do not pick up your hat by pinching the crown, either at the top or front. Pinching will flex the felt, and eventually cause a hole or crack to develop in the felt. It is best to pick up the hat either by the front and back of the brim, or by placing the thumbs inside the leather sweat band at the sides with the fingers just touching the outside edge of the brim.

Rain or sun do not harm a pure fur felt Akubra. There is no need for plastic rain covers — these merely keep the felt from breathing properly and so make your head uncomfortable. Do not heat a wet hat. Heat will shrink the felt, as well as the leather. Stand the hat upside down on its crown, or hang on a hook in a cool place and let it dry naturally. Wet felt retains the shape in which it dries, so make sure the brim and crown are shaped as you want them before drying.

Dust and grime are bound to accumulate on a hat under any normal conditions. Dust can be removed by brushing with a soft brush. Always brush with the nap, in a counterclockwise direction. Dust can also be removed by wiping the hat with a damp (not wet) towel.

Brim Brush
The hatter's brim brush is designed to brush a hat efficiently. Brush counter-clockwise to remove dust and grime. Used regularly a brim brush will add years to the life of your hat. If you own both light and dark colored hats, we suggest using two brim brushes, one for light colors, one for dark as we do here at David Morgan.

Hat Stretcher
This two way hat stretcher is robust and durable. Tapered blocks of fir on a turnbuckle fit against the leather sweatband to absorb moisture and maintain the hat's proper shape and size when stored. If your hats must of necessity be dried or stored under warm conditions, storing the hat on the stretcher, set to your size, will be beneficial. Three sizes are carried to fit a range of hat sizes. Made in USA.

Please state size — S (below 57), M (57 to 59), L (60 and up)
If your head shape is a long oval, we suggest ordering one size smaller.

Determining Your Hat Size  Heads come in all sizes and in a surprising variety of shapes. Although fur felt hats, such as the Akubras we carry, are adaptable, and will usually conform to differences in shape with a little wearing, it is essential that the size be correct for the head. To determine your hat size, measure the circumference around your head, keeping the tape level and firm, across the temples and above the eyebrow ridges. If you do not have a tape measure, download, print and assemble our hat tape found at davidmorgan.com/hat_tape.pdf. Check the size chart given below. For in-between measurements use the next size up. For hats offered in S-M-L increments, determine your hat size first, then check to see which increment covers your hat size, as this often varies from one manufacturer to another. For the lightweight fabric hats for hot weather use you may prefer a hat a little larger than your normal size.

Inches: 21⅛ 21½ 21¾ 22 22⅛ 22⅓ 23 23⅛ 23⅓ 24 24⅛ 24⅓ 25 25⅛
Metric Hat Size: 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65
US Hat Size: 6⅜ 6⅞ 7 7¼ 7½ 7¾ 8 8¼
Our Panama Hats: S | M | L | XL | XXL |

Check the Fit  When your hat arrives, check the fit before wearing to make sure you have ordered the correct size. Our hat manual (included with each hat) will assist:
1. The sweatband inside the hat should fit securely on the head without binding.
2. For some in-between sizes, and for some head shapes, greater comfort may be attained by placing felt pads inside the sweatband. Felt pads are enclosed with our Akubra and Panama hats, the Wool Felt Hiker and the Lizard Head hat.
3. The top of the crown should not be so low that it touches the top of your head and prevents the hat from coming down far enough to seat properly. If it does, with a leather or cloth hat you may need a smaller size. With an Akubra fur felt hat the top can be adjusted.
If you do find the size is not right, please give us a call before exchanging or returning. We have over 50 years’ experience helping customers measure their heads and fit their hats. Heads come in all shapes and sizes, and sometimes judicial use of felt hat pads (included with each Akubra purchase), altering to a long oval or raising the crown will solve a fit issue.

Exchanges and Returns  If the hat does not fit, recheck your hat size, and exchange your hat for the correct size. Hats in unused condition with all tags can be returned within 90 days of purchase for exchange or full refund of product price. The cost to return the hat to us is the customer’s responsibility. Our $9 handling charge covers your first exchange (if needed). If you live in the greater Seattle area, exchanges and returns can be completed at our Bothell, Washington store.

Hat Pads  Felt hat pads may be placed under the sweat band of a hat to adjust the fit. A hat should fit comfortably, and feel secure but not binding. Where a hat is a little loose, felt hat pads will tighten the fit. We include felt pads with our Akubra hats and our Panama hats. For those needing felt pads for other hats, or replacement pads, we offer two 6 x 1 x ⅛ inch felt pads. The pads can be easily cut to the desired size.

Breakaway Chin Strap  This clever Chin Strap by Akubra is designed to break away if your hat is snagged while riding. The plastic releases pull apart with any excessive tension. It’s also convenient for times when you don’t need your chin strap. Simply loop the chin strap over the back brim of the hat or remove the longer ends and tuck them into your pocket. The length is 17 inches. A metal guide with the Akubra logo holds the two cords together. The cord is made of nylon. The Breakaway Chin strap is suitable for all Akubra hats we offer, but is not suitable for most hats with cloth sweatbands such as our Panamas. Instructions are included with the chin strap. Designed in Australia, made in China.

Nathaniel's Hats  To Nate’s knowledge, he is the only Native-American Master Hatter. In 1994 he moved to Southwestern Colorado from Wisconsin and apprenticed at a well-known custom hat and clothing company. After several years of hard work, he became a master hatter. Now in Georgetown, Texas, Nathaniel’s Custom Hatters creates custom hats of the finest quality. He uses centuries-old techniques that give each hat a timeless quality and style. He was named “Best Living Hatmaker” in 2008 by True West magazine.

Lizard Head Hat  Hand made by Nate Funmaker, this hat is a true original. Nate crafts the entire hat by hand, including blocking, shaping, sewing and trimming. It’s made of 100% rabbit fur felt. Nate has creased and pinched the back and sides of the crown, and thrown a small mule kick in the front. There is a diamond dent on the top. The sweatband is leather. The hat band is David Morgan’s own Ridge Braid Hat Band, (page 16) hand braided kangaroo leather. The crown is 4⅜ inches at the front, 4 inches in the back and 4½ inches on the sides. The brim is 2¾ inches on the sides, 3½ inches in the front and back. Fully lined. Colors are Sahara or Steel. Hand made in USA.

Measure Twice! — Large Hats with High Shipping Costs  Unfortunately, some of our larger hats are now facing astronomical shipping costs. These hats include the Riverina (page 11), Territory (page 12), Adventurer (page 13) and the Lizard Head.

All domestic shippers now charge dimensional weights for ground delivery. Any package over one cubic foot is subject to a greater charge than the actual weight. For these hats which require a box greater than one cubic foot, the cost to send back to David Morgan has jumped to upwards of $50. If you are interested in one of these styles, we do recommend you double check your hat size before purchasing.

Crocodile Leather Key Fob  This key fob is cut from the backs of farm-raised saltwater crocodiles. Each fob is unique, approximately 3 inches by 1½ inches in size depending on the individual skutes. Care of leather hats:  Leather hats are durable and long lasting. Leather will shrink if heated so never dry a wet hat with heat. As with any hat, we suggest storing it on a hat stretcher (page 14) to best maintain the size. A light coating of Pecard Leather Dressing (page 55) every six months will help maintain the fine appearance of your leather hat.

Wool Felt Hiker Hat, Crushable  For those who want an alternative to rabbit fur felt, this Italian-made, wool felt hat is perfect. It is crushable, so you can pack it away for your adventures. The teardrop crown is 4 inches in the front and back, and rises to 4¾ on the sides. The downturned welted brim is 2¼ inches in the front and 2½ inches on the sides. The ¾ inch wide hat band is suede trimmed with leather. Cloth sweatband. Unlined. Water resistant. Colors are Taupe or Gray. Made in Italy by Stefeno Hats.

Fur Felt or Wool Felt?  We offer both! Felt, created by using heat, agitation and moisture to tightly interlock fibers in all directions, is one of the lightest fabrics known in relation to its tensile strength. The rabbit and hare fur used in the fur felt hats we offer is the downy-underfur, not the long, coarse hair commonly called fur. This under-fur has tiny barb-like projections on the surface of each fiber and these barbs interlock to make strong felt. Wool fibers, coarser than the fur fibers, also have these tiny barbs and can be felted, although not as tightly as fur felt. Fur felt hats, such as our Akubras and the Lizard Head hat, are generally longer lasting, lighter weight, thinner, smoother and more durable than wool felt hats. Quality wool felt hats are markedly cheaper to produce than fur felt hats, and can be a great choice for a casual hat.
Conner Hats, headed by Will Conner, is a continuation of the legacy of his father Bill's business, BC Hats. Will's travels as a young man gave him an appreciation for how humans affect the world. Will makes it company policy to tread lightly and consider the wider outcome of business decisions. "I believe we can make a positive change," Will says. "Thoughtful actions can improve the health of business while reducing negative impact on cultures and ecosystems alike. Our goal is to promote long-term thinking and to really consider future generations with every product we create and every decision we make as a brand." The wool used in Conner Hats is cruelty free. Recycled and organic materials are used wherever possible. both in the hats and packaging.

Bird and Feather Wool Felt Hat  This wool felt hat adjusts to fit hat sizes 6 3/4 through 7 1/4. The hat is crushable, so you can put it in your luggage for your next trip. Pop the top and look sharp! The welted brim is 3 1/4 inches and the crown is 4 1/2 inches. A metal feather adorns the leather strap that runs through the brim and around the crown, providing a simple chin strap. The chin strap can be tucked inside the crown when not needed. A metal bird with the Conner logo is attached to the crown. The satin sweatband adjusts for a custom fit. Unlined. Water repellant. UPF rating 50+. Colors are Black, Brown, Plum or Putty. 100% Australian cruelty-free wool. Made in China by Conner Hats.

Tilley Endurables started in 1980 when Alex Tilley needed a good hat for sailing and couldn’t find one, and decided to make one himself. He spared no effort, sought advice from a milliner, sailmaker and hat maker, and, as he says “got it right”. Only afterwards, when he saw that he had an outstanding hat, did he decide to sell it through stores. The sale of the original hat, and expansion into a range of hats and travel ware, has benefited from Alex Tilley’s imagination and insistence on outstanding quality.

Ruf Duck®  Ruf Duck Rain Gear is made in the Northwest, where people know rain. Designed by a retired logger, these garments are durable, lightweight and functional, suitable for the toughest outdoor environments. Over the past 20 years, Ruf Duck has developed a following with dairymen, commercial fishermen, and others who need practical rain gear. The fabric is made on the East Coast to Ruf Duck’s specifications. Flame-resistant oxford nylon, 200 denier, was chosen because it is stronger than conventional weaves and lightweight. The nylon fabric is coated with a proprietary polyurethane waterproof film. The waterproofing is on the inside, protected from wear. The seams are double-stitched and reinforced in the back with extra vinyl to prevent leakage through the seams. The design of the garment acts like bellows, circulating out perspiration laden air as you walk and work. The Ruf Duck Rain Gear is 100% waterproof.

Hooded Rain Jacket  The jacket has a snap closure double storm flap, and no pockets or cuffs to catch water or chemicals. The body and sleeves are long to provide plenty of coverage. The roomy attached hood with a storm bill and drawstring can be rolled into the collar and fastened with Velcro when not in use. Back length of a size L is 32½ inches. Machine wash, hang dry. Colors are Green, Blue, Yellow or Black. Polyurethane-coated Nylon. Fabric and garment made in USA.

Lothlorian Possum/Merino Woolens  Lothlorian is a New Zealand company offering a range of possum/Merino woolens, designed and crafted in their specialized knitting plant located on the outskirts of Auckland. The blended yarn is 40% New Zealand possum fur, 50% Merino wool and 10% nylon to stabilize and strengthen the yarn. The unique soft pointed ends and hollow core of possum fur provide an extremely light, soft and luxurious fiber. State of the art knitting technology is used to create garments with few seams and a natural, comfortable fit with excellent draping characteristics. The resulting woolens are extremely lightweight, warm and elegant. Please check online at davidmorgan.com for our entire selection.

Possum Gloves—These gloves are one of our best sellers throughout the year. Prison Blues — Made on the Inside to be worn on the Outside® Prison Blues was formed by the State of Oregon in 1989 as a way to create jobs for the Oregon Correctional Institution. The factory, located at the Eastern Oregon Correctional Institution in Pendleton, Oregon, is 47,000 square feet and produces many garments including shirts, jeans and hats. Each inmate must pass a detailed hiring process. They are then trained by managers with private industry experience. By purchasing a Prison Blues garment, you get a quality product made by inmates who take pride in their work. You are also supporting a program that teaches inmates valuable working skills that they need to become contributing members of society.

Yard Coat  This jacket is your perfect utility coat. It’s not meant to look fashionable, it’s meant to get the job done. All stress points are riveted for durability. The coat buttons in the front. Hickory Shirt  Loggers in the Pacific Northwest have an unusually durable shirt for their work, the Hickory Shirt. The material is a tightly woven 100% cotton. It is highly snag resistant, made to withstand the jaggers on the chokers, the small snags of broken wire on the cables used to hold the logs being taken from the forest. This shirt from Prison Blues is made of 100% 8 oz. cotton with all the traditional hickory shirt features. The button front shirt is full cut, with rounded tails. The long sleeves have two-button square cut cuffs. It has two chest pockets with button flaps. The back yoke has a second layer of fabric extending 5 inches down the back. This shoulder reinforcement not only helps fend off jaggers and snags from branches, but provides extra protection from wear on the back for the drivers wheeling the logging trucks in and out of the forest. The back length of a size Large (44) is 33 inches. Color is the traditional narrow white and navy stripes. Made in USA of imported fabric.

J.B. Field’s® was founded in 1877 to make socks for the Canadian logging industry. As with several old-line Canadian companies, they prospered supplying the Hudson’s Bay Company with reliable, practical products, suited to the demanding conditions of Canada’s extractive industries: logging, fishing, mining and farming. Today they are in the forefront in modern sock manufacture.

Sock Sizing  J.B. Field’s wool socks and Arriva socks are made to stretch and adapt readily. If you are at the top of the range for a size, and your foot is wide, take the next size up. If you are at the bottom of the range for a size, and your foot is narrow, take the next size down.

Pandemic Problems — Moccasins  Our bison leather moccasins, a customer favorite for years, are handmade just south of us in Centralia, Washington by Geier Glove. Geier's manufacturing has been impacted by the pandemic in several ways, in particular by very limited supply of the bison leather from which the moccasins are made. We are taking back orders but the demand for these USA made moccasins is so far ahead of supply that we may not be able to ship until well in to 2022. Please call or visit us online to order or check current availability.

Geier Glove Company has been making driving and work gloves here in the state of Washington for over 90 years. Their leather gloves are known throughout the West for quality in fit and wear. The Geier gloves we offer are made in the Gunn pattern. The seams along the fingers are at the back to provide longer wear, leaving a smooth surface where the fingers apply stress. There is a seam on the inside at the base of the two central fingers. Except on the lightweight gloves, welts are used on the seams of the thumb and base of fingers to protect the seams from wear. The thumb is the stick-out or wing pattern, for easy thumb movement. Full-grain deer, goat, kangaroo, bison and elkskins are used. Some natural irregularities may be found, but any imperfections lowering the wearing qualities are avoided in cutting out the leather.

Kangaroo Leather Gloves Kangaroo leather is strong, dense, wears well and does not stiffen after being wet. It is available as a very thin leather, which will protect the skin with minimal loss of touch. Kangaroo has over three times the abrasion resistance and the tear strength of deerskin. These gloves are made of a thin kangaroo, supple and long wearing and are suggested for when you want the finest in supple driving, riding or work gloves. We offer the kangaroo gloves in two patterns: a slip-on driving or semi-dress glove and a roper glove with elastic back and palm patch. Unlined. Colors are Gold, Black or Chocolate. Made in USA.

Your glove size is the measurement in inches around the palm of your hand. If you are right-handed, measure your right hand. If you are left-handed, measure your left hand.

Are leather gloves waterproof? No. Leather is naturally water-resistant but not waterproof. Leather dressing such as Pecard (page 55) will increase the water-resistance.
Welch Suspenders  The Welch Company has been manufacturing suspenders in Portland, Oregon, since 1967. Their suspenders are recognized for quality and reliability. Traditionally, in the Northwest, anyone showing up to join a logging crew wearing a belt instead of suspenders was sent home as too green to work with the crew. We offer a selection of Welch suspenders to suit a variety of needs. The elastic in each suspender is the best of its type, and each is selected for stretch and wear characteristics to suit the specific style of suspender. All Welch suspenders are made in the USA.

Ends  Leather ends are flat and riveted to swivel so they may fit well. The leather used is the same oil-tanned leather used in the uppers of the best logging and work boots of the Northwest. It is strong, durable, and supple, allowing easy attachment to buttons. The oversized gator clip is firm and reliable, nickel plated to withstand the weather.

Suspender Sizing  Suspender length is measured from the suspender buttons or clip ends on the front over the shoulder to that on the back on the opposite side.  The Regular (46") suspenders adjust from 46 inches to about 38 inches, and generally fit people under 6 feet tall. The Extra Long (54") suspenders adjust from 54 inches to about 42 inches. Those under 6 feet tall may prefer the Extra Long suspenders if they have a larger girth or wish to keep the adjustment clasp up relatively high on their torso.

X or Y  The choice between "Y" Back or "X" Back suspenders is primarily a matter of personal preference. The same suspender button spacing is used for both styles, so the two styles can be used interchangeably. Some folks feel the "Y" Back style is more comfortable if you are engaged in heavy physical activity which involves sideways movement of the torso, such as swinging a scythe. However, in most circumstances there is little difference in functionality between the "X" Back and "Y" Back suspenders.

Work Suspenders  These heavy duty work suspenders will provide reliable support and comfort throughout the day. The webbing is premium polyester elastic. The "Y" Back Suspenders have a leather cross patch reinforcing the critical wear-zone at the webbing intersection. 2 inches wide. Made in USA.

Rogue Industries  Rogue Industries, a family owned company, developed their own front pocket wallet when they were unable to find one that suited. We are pleased to offer a selection of these leather wallets, made in Maine.

Ballglove Leather Wallet with RFID Protection  The perfect gift for baseball lovers, this wallet is made from the same leather as used in baseball gloves. The Rogue Wallet, made in New England with Yankee craftsmanship, is the ultimate protection against theft — both physical and digital. The wallet is curved so that it easily slides into your front pocket. The RFID WalletGuard material is stitched directly into the wallet lining so that your credit and debit cards cannot be scanned. The size is 5 inches long and 3⅜ inches wide, with one side curved. There is an identity window on one side, slots for three cards on the other, with a stash pocket under the slots for other cards or papers. There is a full size bill compartment. Baseball Glove Leather from Horween Tannery in Chicago, Illinois. Color is Ballglove Yellow. Made in USA.

Salmon Wallet with RFID Protection  This unusual wallet is made from salmon leather. Salmon leather is very strong and is similar in feel to snakeskin, but with a softer, suede-like finish. The front pocket wallet design is identical to the #1212 Bison Wallet, with WalletGuard RFID protection. Color is Brown. Salmon leather (outside), top-grain cowhide leather (inside). Made in USA.

#1211 Salmon Wallet with RFID Protection ......................... $55
RFID Protection Sleeves  Rogue Industries uses a patented three-layer material to provide RFID protection against digital theft of contactless and RFID enabled credit and ID cards. The WalletGuard material is laboratory tested and FIPS 201 approved for security. Although very thin, the metal layer makes this material more than 200% stronger than paper. These sleeves can be used with wallets that do not have integral RFID protection. The credit card sleeve is 3.4 x 2.3 inches, large enough to hold two cards. It fits in most larger credit card slots. Made in USA.

Note: We include 2 sample RFID credit card sleeves with our wallets that do not have integral RFID protection, including the Spartan wallet, Heritage wallet and our crocodile wallet.

Crocodilians  The effort to save the crocodilians is the outstanding success story of the world’s wildlife conservation movement. Of the 23 species all but a few are in good numbers in their native ranges, many with large farming operations providing skins and meat while helping to protect and expand wild populations. Effective programs are in place ensuring the survival of those still considered to be in a less satisfactory state. For information on this subject, and the state of individual species, we suggest the following website: http://www.crocodilian.com.

Hornback Crocodile Belt   These belts are made from the back strap or central back portion of the saltwater crocodile skin. The leather in this section is bone free in the saltwater crocodile, unlike that of other crocodilians, so the leather quality is uncompromised. The raised scutes give a three-dimensional quality, accentuated by the tanning and dyeing process. Each belt shows a gradation in the scutes from neck to tail, since each is made without joins from a single skin. The belt is well finished with a cowhide backing, suitable for casual wear. The buckle is attached with Chicago screws. The solid brass (Brown belt) or nickel plated zinc (Black belt) buckle can be detached so you may use your favorite buckle. These hand cut belts vary in width from 1¼ to 1½ inches wide. Crocodile leather keeper. Colors are Black or Dark Brown. Made in Australia from farm raised saltwater crocodiles.

#901 Hornback Crocodile Belt ............................................................................................................. $280

Note on belt size: The Hornback Crocodile Belts allow about +/- 1 inch adjustment, ½ inch less allowance than our American belts. Order the next size up if your belts normally run tight.

International customers please note:  Due to the strict US import and export regulations, we are only able to ship kangaroo and crocodile leather products outside the US by adhering to the US Fish and Wildlife Service export inspection procedures. We charge $100 for this service which includes preparing all paperwork and shipping to the US Fish & Wildlife Service for their $93 inspection, and the paperwork and packaging for the Service to ship on to the customer. Please check online or email us for further information if you are interested in this service.
Crocodile ID Wallet  These genuine crocodile leather wallets are crafted from the belly skins of salt water crocodiles, farm raised in Australia’s tropical north. Lined with kangaroo leather they are not only handsome but long wearing. The wallet has a full length divided bill compartment, 8 credit card pockets, two center opening pockets (beneath the credit card slots) and a fold out flap with an identity window and card slot. Each wallet is unique, showing the natural variation in the crocodile leather grain. The closed size is 4½ by 3¼ inches. Farm raised crocodile leather and kangaroo leather. Made in Australia.

Cordon y Cuero  Cordon y Cuero was founded and operated for years by the husband/wife team of Larry and Jaya Knapp. Larry and Jaya spent time in Ibeza, Spain in the 1970’s where they learnt the skills of leather craftsmanship. The Knapps returned to the US, locating in Taos, New Mexico where they continued to produce sophisticated leatherwork. Their daughter, Anyma, is now taking over operation of the company, continuing to produce fine leatherwork.
Wool Fat Soap
Mitchell’s Original Wool Fat Soap is made from the natural lanolin extracted from the fleece of sheep. The lanolin keeps the sheep dry, and is responsible for the soft skin on the hands of shearers and wool-classers, despite the arduous work of shearing sheep or sorting wool. The soap contains no strong synthetic scents or coloring agents and is gentle to the skin. If you have problems with soaps made from animal body fat with additives, we suggest you try Mitchell’s Wool Fat Soap with its soothing lanolin. This fine soap is still made to the formula developed in the early 1900’s in Bradford, the center for the English wool fleece industry. It is offered in a gift pack of three large 5.29 oz. (150 g) bars.

#2881 Wool Fat Soap Gift Pack ...................................................................................................................................... $30

Bridle Leather Belts
These belts are made in one of the finest leathers known, top quality curried bridle leather. Only the prime back section of the hide is used, and all belts are cut lengthwise, the direction of greatest strength in the hide. The natural top grain is used, with its normal variation in texture and patterning. The belts are bench made, with full attention to detail. Edges are rounded, polished and finished with a line inside the edge. The end keeper is formed and sewn. We offer the belts without a buckle, in case you already own a favorite buckle, or wish to purchase one of our fine buckles. The buckle end uses snaps for easy attachment of a buckle. Colors are Black or Brown, a rich brown with a touch of red. Hand crafted in the USA. by Danny Whitaker.

Natural Bridle Leather Belt
This is a leather work belt that won’t fail. The full grain bridle leather is waxed, rather than dyed and waxed, to maintain the maximum leather strength. With this exceptional strength, and the added benefit of no dyes to rub off, this belt will stand up to years of heavy use as a work belt, tool belt or your favorite casual belt. The natural irregularities and variations in texture and color make each belt unique. Edges are rounded, polished and finished with a line along the edge. 1½ inches wide. The end keeper is formed and sewn. The natural color will darken slightly with exposure to sunlight. Hand crafted in the USA.

#805 Natural Bridle Leather Belt, no buckle, 1½ inch ..................................... $97

Belt sizes 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44
Please state belt size

Belt Size depends on your girth and the buckle you intend using with the belt. Measure a belt you are currently using from the buckle end of the belt leather to the hole in use. Round to the nearest ½ inch, then determine your belt size from the following chart. Our belts allow about +/- 1½ inches adjustment in size. If you are between sizes, order the next size up. If you are planning on using a very large buckle, you may need the next belt size down.

Brass Buckles  These brass harness buckles with stainless steel tongues and brass rollers have been chosen to reflect the strength of our bridle leather belts. Made in USA.

Wolf Buckle  This die stamped sterling silver buckle depicts the wolf with flaring nostrils. In Indian lore the wolf is associated with the special spirit power that a hunter must acquire to be successful. The buckle is designed by Dale Faulstich, a non-Indian with close ties to the Jamestown S’Klallam Indians of the Olympic Peninsula. Made in USA.

Our Celtic Knot Belt Buckle is Back! This buckle, designed by our own David Morgan, was our most popular buckle for many years. In 2017 the company who cast these buckles for us closed their doors. Just this winter we learned that Rick Geib at Fluidbronze, who casts our Wildlife in Bronze jewelry, had increased his casting capabilities and could cast these buckles for us. We are delighted.

These belt buckles are cast in bronze or solid sterling silver (not shown) using the “lost wax” investment casting method. Each buckle made in this age-old jeweler’s technique must first be made in wax. The wax buckle is then “invested” or covered with a plaster of paris slurry and allowed to dry. It is then placed in a computer controlled electric kiln that slowly ramps up the temperature, eventually reaching 1500 degrees Fahrenheit for several hours before dropping back to 900 degrees. This process takes about 22 hours. During this process, all the wax in the plaster mold is burned out or “lost”, the result is a cavity into which the molten metal is poured in. The 900 degree plaster mold is placed in a vacuum chamber and a powerful pump draws a vacuum on the hot plaster mold as the metal is poured in. This vacuum process creates greater detailed castings with a minimum of feeder gates to the piece. After cooling, the buckle casting is broken from the mold. At this point, the casting is black from the oxidation of the molten bronze or sterling silver and must be carefully ground, tooled and polished to achieve the final gleaming finish. The final finishing and tooling marks reflect the individuality of each buckle and attests to the craftsmanship involved in its unique creation.

Celtic Knot Buckle

Bolo Ties

These distinctive bolo ties, our own production, are hand braided from six strands of kangaroo leather. The neck section is braided flat for comfort. The ties have sterling silver tips and a leather slide. The overall length, from end knot to end knot, not including sterling silver tips, is about 38 inches for the regular Bolo Tie, 42 inches (about 2 inches longer on each side) for the extra long. Colors are Natural Tan or Black. Made in USA.

Our distinctive bolo ties are also available in a four plait braid with a selection of sterling silver slides. These hand braided bolo ties have sterling tips. Visit us online at davidmorgan.com for our complete selection.

Bolo Ties

The origin of bolo ties, sometimes known as string ties, dates back to the early days of the West. By the mid 20th century, the bolo tie had become a symbol of the American Southwest, fusing elements of cowboy practicality and Native American art. Popularized across the US through Western television shows and movies, the bolo tie gained global recognition in the 1950s, becoming an iconic fashion statement for the Teddy Boys, whose rebellious, rock and roll attitude swept England. The bolo tie is the official state neckwear of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

David Morgan is pleased to offer an extensive selection of braided goods. Our interest in leather braiding arose in the early 1960s from contact with some of the last of the Australian whipmakers trained as apprentices in the Victorian craft of hand braiding. The Australians worked in kangaroo leather, the finest leather available for braiding. Since that time we have offered a selection of braided leather goods, largely in kangaroo hide, and largely in the Australian style of work. Only a few leather craftsmen combine the skills honed by experience with the desire to do exceptional work. Fewer still have access to a market which is sufficiently sophisticated to appreciate the time and effort needed for work of this calibre.

We continue to produce quality braided goods in our leather workshop in Bothell, Washington. Our 450 Series bull whips have acquired fame from their appearances in several movies, including the Indiana Jones movies and the Mask of Zorro. Our complete selection of braided goods can be found online at davidmorgan.com.

Braided Kangaroo Leather Belts  Finely braided belts were a traditional specialty of the Australian whipmakers. In cutting a kangaroo skin for a whip, the center of the skin was often left too small for a second whip. This leather, the prime part of the skin, was ideal for belts. The usual style was a cinch ring belt with two harness rings or dees. The individual strands are turned over as they are braided past the end section, so that the grain side of the leather remains on the outside where the end folds back at the dees. The dees are attached by back-braiding the strands in the belt. There are no stitches to give way, no eyelets to tear, and the belt is continuously adjustable. We have brought this craft to America so that you may enjoy wearing these belts, fine examples of traditional craftsmanship at its best. The belts are available in Natural Tan, Black, or a Two-tone of natural tan and black strands. The Natural Tan darkens with sunlight and time. Our own production, hand crafted in the USA.
Watch Lanyard
The old-style watch lanyard has been used for many years by those who carry pocket watches or stop watches. The loops are of different widths. For most watches the narrow loop attaches more neatly. To give longer wear the wide loop may be attached to the watch where the bail is sufficiently large. Either loop attaches readily to the belt loop. The overall length is 12 inches. Four plait kangaroo leather. Our own production, hand crafted in the USA.

#849 Watch Lanyard ............................................. $46

Braiding Supplies  Vegetable tanned kangaroo leather has about four times the tensile strength of equivalent cowhide, and is by far the best leather for fine leather braiding. We supply both skins and lace. Excess kangaroos are harvested in Australia under programs approved by both the Australian and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife authorities. The leather we offer is in a high strength full grain bark (vegetable) tannage, a premium selection for minimum scarring. We offer drum stuffed skins, that is with grease worked into the leather in heated rotating drums. Drum stuffing provides an even distribution of grease in the amount needed to ensure optimum properties of the leather. The natural color skins are a light tan color as received from the tannery, but darken with sunlight. The black and whiskey skins are tannery dyed, and are black or whiskey through the skin.

Kangaroo Skins  The skins come in three weights: light (under about 0.8 mm thick), suitable for fine braiding; medium (about 0.8 mm), suitable for belts, stockwhips and most horse gear; and heavy (about 1.00 mm), suitable for belts and heavier gear and whips. Skins are measured in square decimeters. 10 square decimeters equal 1.076 square feet. Skins range in size from about 45 to 75 dm² depending on the weight and color. Colors are Natural Tan and Black in all weights, Whiskey in heavy weight only.

Kangaroo Lace  Our premium quality kangaroo lace is hand cut from well trimmed drum stuffed skins, square cut so it may be pared to suit the work in hand. Cutting lace by hand avoids most flaws and permits more continuous cutting. The lace is in 60 foot balls, usually continuous but may have one join. Colors are Natural Tan and Black in all weights, Whiskey in heavy weight only.

The 1/8 inch lace is available in three weights: Light (under about 0.8 mm thick), suitable for fine braiding; Medium (about 0.8 mm), suitable for horse gear; and Heavy (about 1.00 mm), suitable for belts and heavier gear and whips.

Pecard Leather Dressing

Pecard Leather Dressing, quietly manufactured in Wisconsin since 1902, is the jewel among the many leather dressings on the market today. It is based on a petroleum lubricant similar to vaseline, with additions of selected waxes including beeswax. It is a dressing which penetrates the leather, allows the fibers to bend and move without chafing and breaking, coats the fibres to inhibit oxidation, and helps maintain a desirable level of moisture in the leather. It is chemically neutral, carrying neither salts nor harsh solvents, and does not decompose to form damaging agents. It is an economical dressing — there are no volatile carrier agents such as water or kerosene to dilute the lubricant. Pecard Leather Dressing is the dressing used by the knowledgeable collectors of leather items and museum conservators.

Fine leather deserves good care. We recommend Pecard Leather Dressing for: leather luggage; fine leather goods; handbags; saddlery; boots and shoes; motorcycle leather; antique leather; leather furniture and leather car seats.

#1112 Pecard Dressing, 16 oz. tub ......................................................... $18
#1113 Pecard Dressing, 32 oz. tub ......................................................... $26

Kangaroo Lace, Machine Cut

This lace is machine cut in Australia, and is a superior quality. This lace is a less greasy craft lace, not drum stuffed, so should be heavily greased with Pecard Leather Dressing before braiding. The machine cut lace is cut in circles and is spliced where flawed. It is square cut and has about two to three joins per 50 meters (164 feet), up to six joins per 100 meters (328 feet). We advise stretching this lace before using it in order to evaluate uniformity. Colors are Tan, Whiskey or Black. The Tan is very lightly dyed to give a uniform color that will not discolor over time.

Occulture  Created by designer Lisa Engeman, Occulture is a collaboration with Australian indigenous artisans transferring ancient stories and knowledge into contemporary statement jewelry that celebrates and strengthens the songline of culture, knowledge, artists and community. The photoanodized aluminum jewelry with sterling silver fittings is handcrafted in Australia using cutting edge technology. Each piece of Occulture jewelry is gift boxed, with a card describing the artist and the artwork. Please visit us online at davidmorgan.com for our full collection and to learn more about the artists and artwork.

Brush Tail Possum Dreaming  The Brush Tail Possum Dreaming artwork is by Australian Indigenous artist Steven Jupurrurla Nelson. The photoanodized aluminum pendant and matching earrings have gold-filled fittings. The reverse side color is eucalypt. An 18 inch black silicone rubber cord with a gold-filled lobster clasp is included with each pendant. The slight wave in the hand-fashioned earring hooks echoes the Brush Tail Possum Dreaming design. The earring hooks have a simple locking feature. Hand crafted in Australia.

Celtic Design Jewelry  The Celts, whose lands spread across Europe from Hungary to Ireland two thousand years ago, left a rich legacy of art. They were skilled metal workers, with a strong interest in gold, silver and bronze ornaments for themselves and for their horse trappings. In Wales, where the language and culture survive with unbroken continuity from those early times, the Celtic design tradition is still part of the living heritage. Our Celtic jewelry is drawn from both modern Welsh and older Celtic sources, with design as timely today as it was two thousand years ago.

Our sterling silver Celtic jewelry is either lost wax castings or stamped pieces made in the USA. Our sterling silver pendants come with sterling silver chains. Our gold Celtic jewelry pieces are hand polished lost wax castings, made in the USA. The gold pendants are sold without chains. Chains are offered separately on page 72. The jewelry is sent to you gift boxed, and most pieces come with a card explaining the background of the design.

Celtic Cross  This cross is inspired by the stone Celtic crosses found in many parts of Wales, dating from the early days of Christianity in Britain. The cross is simply executed in sterling silver or 14 kt. gold. Made in USA. Shown full size.

St. Brynach’s Cross  The great cross at Nanhyfer in Dyfed, Wales was carved in the 10th or 11th century. The stone cross stands thirteen feet high with a 24½ inch diameter head. The church of St. Brynach, in the yard of which this cross stands, was founded by St. Brynach in the 6th century.

St. Brynach’s Cross  The St. Brynach’s Cross is set in Celtic style against the circle of the sun, and ornamented with the endless ribbon of eternity. The design is deeply incised in the substantial pendant (shown full size) and pin (not shown). Sterling silver. Made in USA.

Wildlife in Bronze — Jewelry Designs by Cavin Richie

Cavin Richie grew up in Colorado surrounded by the natural beauty of the Rocky Mountains. He moved to Washington State in 1970 and has lived near the sea ever since. Cavin’s designs are a reflection of his surroundings. His line includes birds, mammals and amphibians, all accurately detailed. For the past thirty years he has carved with shed elk antler and woolly mammoth ivory. These carvings became the basis for his lost wax casting jewelry. “Carving,” says Cavin “is like touching antiquity. I feel a kinship with a long lineage of carvers dating back to the Pleistocene.”

In 2013 David Morgan purchased the Cavin Richie jewelry line, allowing Cavin to devote more time to his carving and one of a kind sculptures and artwork. We are pleased to offer these solid bronze lost wax castings. A patina complements the earthy metal, giving each piece a unique finish. The fishhook earrings have hypoallergenic (gray niobium) hooks. Pendants have an adjustable fabric cord. All the Wildlife in Bronze jewelry is designed by Cavin Richie, cast in the US and hand finished here in Washington state.

Some of Cavin Richie’s designs are well suited to casting in silver and gold. Without the patinas used with the bronze castings, the sterling silver or 14 kt gold still show the incredible detail of Cavin’s work.

Hummingbird

The dark beak and bronze gorget set off the green patina on this hummingbird in flight. Heishi beads and polished stones complement the antiqued sterling silver with toggle clasp. Total necklace length is 24 inches. Matching earrings have a copper bead and gray niobium fishhooks. Bronze.

The Wildlife in Bronze jewelry, including the Hummingbird Necklace, is sent to you gift boxed, with information about the piece.

Conservancy in Bronze  We are pleased to partner with Cavin Richie in offering the Conservancy in Bronze jewelry -- jewelry specifically designed to benefit organizations dedicated to preserving and creating habitat for threatened and endangered wildlife. With Cavin's retirement from production work, he is now able to pursue this passion, using his artistic skills to benefit the wildlife he loves. A substantial portion of the proceeds from each Conservancy in Bronze sale will be donated to the designated organization. Please visit us online for more Conservancy in Bronze designs.

Honey Bee  The honey bee was originally brought to North America by the early colonists. Bees are now a necessary form of pollination for US agricultural products, yet are in peril around the world. Show your support of the Honey Bee with this delightful pendant. In Cavin's depiction a honey bee sits upon a hexagonal beehive segment. The design is three dimensional with almost ½ inch in depth. The fabric cord is adjustable from 18 to 36 inches. A substantial portion of the purchase price will be donated to Friends of the Earth. Bronze. Handcrafted in the USA.

Silver Seasons  Michael Michaud's love of nature and his exceptional knowledge of jewelry making inspired him to launch the Silver Seasons Collection. He has perfected the technique of creating models from natural botanical elements and, after the models are made, manipulating these “copies of nature” into his jewelry. Using primarily bronze, natural stones and hand-formed glass, the Silver Seasons jewelry we offer is renowned for its craftsmanship and beauty, handcrafted in New York.

Blackberry Necklace  Michael Michaud was inspired by a wallpaper design entitled “Bramble” when creating this jewelry. The wallpaper design was first produced in 1879 and is in the Victoria and Albert Collection. This highly-detailed statement necklace has five blackberries topped with gold-patinaed bracts and several patinaed leaves. The size of each berry is ½ inch long and ½ inch wide. The full size of the drop from the chain is 3 inches. The chain is adjustable from 16 inches to 18 inches with 8 adjustment rings. Closes with a lobster claw fastener. The bronze is hand-patinaed and the berry is hand-formed glass. The chain is gold-filled. Handcrafted in the USA.

Argillite Reproductions  The Haida carvings in argillite are some of the finest presentations of totemic art. These reproductions are well made from original work in Canada, made in a natural resin composite with the heft and finish of the originals. These museum quality reproductions of the older work are available in a range of styles that can be more casually displayed so that the art can be enjoyed on an everyday basis.
The reproductions are made by Boma, a Canadian company producing a range of collectibles and giftware.

Bear-Halibut Totem Pole  This totem pole reproduction shows the bear with the halibut. Height is 5 inches, color is argillite black.
Natural resin composite. Made in Canada.

Eagle and Raven Totems  Enjoy these delightful totems singly or together as lovebirds. The original totems were carved by Christian White as part of a chess set. The Eagle King height is 3¼ inches. The Raven Queen height is 3 inches. Color is argillite black.
Natural resin composite. Made in Canada by Boma.
#B118 Eagle King ................................................................. $30

Sea Wolf  The original Sea Wolf carving, a mythical creature, was carved in argillite by Ed Russ in 1997. 2¾ inches high, 4¾ inches long and 1 inch wide. Color is argillite black. Natural resin composite. Made in Canada.
#B119 Sea Wolf ................................................................. $54

Frog Bowl  Wooden bowls were in common use to hold oil to accompany food and were often elaborately carved. Small grease bowls were often in the shape of frogs. Argillite bowls were made specifically for the trade in scrimshaw work where argillite commanded a much higher price than wood. This reproduction is 3¼ inches in length. Color is argillite black. Natural resin composite. Made in Canada.
#B221 Frog Bowl ................................................................. $56

The reproductions on this page are all from the Canadian Museum of History’s Haida Gwaii Collection. Haida Gwaii means ‘Islands of the People’ in the Haida language and refers to the Queen Charlotte Islands. The museum is located in Gatineau, Quebec.
Indian Jewelry of the Pacific Northwest  The distinctive artistic tradition of the Indians of the Pacific Northwest has shown a continuing vitality despite the generally devastating effect of the coming of the Europeans upon their culture. Today this tradition is flourishing with younger artists both following and reinterpreting the traditions of the older culture and responding to the newer forces of their present life. The carvings, paintings, textiles and jewelry are finding an enthusiastic reception not only within the tribal communities and with tourists, but in the artistic world at large.

Our sterling silver and copper Northwest Indian jewelry pieces are either lost wax castings or stamped pieces, all made in the USA. Our sterling silver pendants come with sterling silver chains. The jewelry is sent to you gift boxed, and most pieces come with a card explaining the background of the design.

Lovebirds  This modern cross-cultural design is by Odin Lonning, a Tlingit from Juneau. The jewelry displays the lovebirds, eagle and raven, in a traditional form within a heart shape. The pendant and pin are about 2 inches wide. The Lovebirds Necklet is about 1½ inches wide. Sterling silver, with 18 inch sterling silver chain. The fishhook earrings are about 1 inch long. Sterling silver. Made in USA.

Lovebirds  Haida and Tlingit Indians have two main clans, the Eagles and the Ravens. Traditionally, members of the same clan cannot marry, so marriages typically signify the joining of an eagle to a raven. Designs linking eagle and raven are popular in items such as bracelets and rings, given as gifts between couples of these clans.

Bill Helin  Tsimshian native artist Bill Helin enjoys a very rewarding career as a creative gold engraver, painter, woodcarver, and book illustrator. His ancestry is from the Gits’iis tribe in the village of Lax Kw’alaams, British Columbia. He loves to paint mythological images to educate people on the history of the Tsimshian nation and the many stories passed down through his ancestors. His greatest passion however is to spiritually represent and bond individuals together through the use of native Life Crest symbols. The art of Bill Helin is reproduced in collaboration with the artist and royalties are paid to the artist on each item sold.

Pewter/Silver Jewelry  The jewelry shown on this page is made from an alloy of pewter with just a touch of silver. The pewter is lighter than sterling silver, resulting in a light weight that is comfortable to wear. The touch of silver adds luster. The jewelry is made in Canada by Boma.

Equilibrium  The Eagle, representing air, is embossed and polished over a textured background in this jewelry, part of Corrine Hunt’s Sea to Sky collection. The pendant finds its own equilibrium on the 18 inch sterling silver chain. Made of a pewter alloy with a touch of silver. 18 inch sterling silver chain. Sterling silver french loops. Made in Canada.

Marvin Oliver Notecards  These notecards merit framing. Marvin Oliver, of Quinault and Isleta-Pueblo heritage, was one of the leading contemporary printmakers and sculptors in the Pacific Northwest. Over his long career, Oliver worked in a variety of media including cedar, bronze, steel and glass. His efforts and artwork have been instrumental in the development and recognition of Native American Contemporary Fine Art. Born in 1946, Marvin Oliver passed away in 2019. These notecards are a lasting testimony to Marvin’s artistic skill. The notecards are natural paper, 5 x 7 inches, with the designs both lithographed and embossed. There are six notecards and envelopes per pack. Made in USA.

Thunderbird Spirit Box  Thunderbird is a mythical creature of the Coastal tribes, with supernatural powers including creating thunder by flapping his wings and lightning with a blink of his eyes. This spirit box was designed by Tom McPhee, a non-Indian Canadian artist. His spirit boxes resemble the Indian grease bowls, but are a new interpretation of the art. Color is Rosewood. Size is 5 by 3½ by 4½. This museum quality piece is made from a crushed marble and natural resin composite which undergoes multiple polishing and highlighting steps to develop the uniquely rich and warm finish. Made in Canada.

#B105 Thunderbird Spirit Box $105
Corrine Hunt  Born in Alert Bay British Columbia in 1959, Corrine has been creating contemporary art that reflects the themes and traditions of her First Nations Komoyue and Tlingit heritage since 1985. Corrine’s works include engraved gold and silver jewelry and accessories, custom furnishings in carved stainless steel and reclaimed wood, modern totem poles and other sculptural installations. She codesigned the medals for the 2010 Vancouver Olympics and Paralympics. For more information on Corrine and her art, please visit www.corrinehunt.ca.

3 Eagles Urban Bag  This bag features a spacious interior with an easy open magnetic snap closure. There is one interior pocket (6½ x 7 inches) that zips shut. A second exterior zipped pocket (7 x 7 inches) on the side of the bag can securely hold your cell phone or other small items. The size is approximately 10½ inches high and 12 inches wide. The leather strap adjusts from 26 inches to 52 inches. Made in Canada.

3 Eagles Shopper Bag  This bag is large enough to carry several store items, but the design is so beautiful you might prefer to use it as a daily tote. There are two interior compartments. The larger compartment has two small open pockets on the side. Both compartments close with a magnetic snap. The size is 12 inches high and 14 inches wide. The nylon shoulder straps are approximately 31 inches. Made of polyester fabric, fully lined. Made in Canada.

Solo Bag  Corrine Hunt’s own interpretation of the raven is embossed on the front of this leather bag, perfect for carrying the little essentials. The main compartment has a zip closure with a raven zipper pull and an open interior pocket. There is one exterior pocket which snaps shut. The leather shoulder strap adjusts between 28 and 48 inches in length. The bag is 7½ inches wide at the base, tapering to 7 inches at the top with a length of 9½ inches. Colors are Brown or Black. Bovine leather. Made in Canada.
Raven Traveling Trivet  This delightful trivet shows Raven paddling his magic canoe, which could shrink to the size of a pine needle or expand to hold the universe. It is made from recycled glass and is heat resistant to 340 degrees Fahrenheit. Designed to be used, the trivet has protective felt dots on the back to prevent scratching fine surfaces. Alternatively, the trivet can be displayed as art — a small hole is drilled in the back for easy hanging. Size is 7 1/16 by 7 3/4 inches. Color is Rosewood. Designed by Andrew Williams. Made in Canada by Boma.

Pate Knife & Fork Set  This pewter set is part of Corrine Hunt’s Sea to Sky Collection. Corrine likens her work to poetry, where a few simple lines can evoke a rich sense of place. The stylized handles have varying depths of relief. The 6 1/2 inch pate knife’s handle is perpendicular to the blade, allowing you to easily rest the knife on the edge of the pate dish or cheese board. The pickle fork is 5 3/4 inches long. The handles are made of lead-free pewter, the blade and tongs are stainless steel. Made in Canada.

#B6915 Pate Knife and Fork Set .......................................................................................................................... $74

Cheese Board  Corrine Hunt designed the prototype for this cheese board by hand-chiseling slate. The board works well for cheese and other hors d’oeuvres, and is beautiful enough to leave on the table for display. The diameter is 11 inches. Color is Black. Food safe. Recycled glass. Made in Canada.

#B4240 Cheese Board ........................................................................................................................................ $64

Pewter Ladle and Fork  This pewter ladle and fork are in the shape of the old horn spoons carved by the Pacific Northwest coastal Indians. The carving on the handles show the bear, and raven stealing the sun. The pewter used is free of heavy metals, and suitable for use with food. The ladle and matching fork make elegant serving pieces. The length is 8 1/2 inches. Handcrafted in Canada by Boma.

Frost River
Frost River hand crafts canoe packs and luggage in Duluth, Minnesota. Their products are made without compromise, using the highest quality materials and benefiting from over 250 years of experience in the North Woods and Boundary Waters. The Martinex Original Wax fabric used is the best waxed cotton canvas available, durable and water resistant. The Martin family has been involved in the dyeing and finishing of textiles in the United States since 1838. The leather used in the straps and reinforcements comes from SB Foot tannery in Red Wing, Minnesota. In business since 1872, this same tannery supplies the leather used today in Red Wing Boots. The solid brass hardware ensures the fittings won’t fail. Built by hand, built to last, Frost River guarantees their luggage for life. We are pleased to offer a selection of Frost River luggage, made in the USA.
